Forgetting being forgotten

silience. It thus forgets that the long history of being forgotten situates the human within complex gatherings within the earth, which can be renewed and transformed. Forgetting that one has been forgotten means forgetting the human as some kind of transcendent signifier.

Newer Older

9th April 2025

Dies laughing

31st March 2025

against the theft of your soul

sonia turcotte © 2022-2025

RSS feed

Made with Montaigne and by anton