TRESPASSERS — The Long Rush

Brian Eno, quoted in Sentiers:

All my misgivings about AI really are to do with the fact that it's owned by a group of people that I don't trust at all. I don't trust their taste, I don't trust their morals, and I don't trust their politics, and that's a problem for me—that the whole technology is in the hands of the wrong people.
