

spare man the effort of living

ing. Robotics, telematics, computer science are developments that, at each stage, are made once and for all. Because of one man's invention, all other men will be deprived of inventing. Everything seems to be done in order to spare man the effort of living, both in his work and in his daily life. It's terrible.

Newer

Older

20th September 2025
the elimination of life is a fascist...

11th September 2025
only natural